Bryan is a native Southern Californian, born in Los Angeles and moved to San Diego at age 10. He grew up surfing, skating and playing music before discovering his calling and passion for working with kids. He and his wife served in kid's ministry and as children's pastors for 15 years. He then started coaching his daughter's recreational team at age 7. He has become a student of the game and continued to coach her team and others since. He currently coaches two Blast SC competitive teams and serves as the Volunteer Vice President for PYSL.

He believes in encouraging young soccer players to have fun and work hard at being decisive, intuitive leaders, both on the soccer field and off. A positive but competitive environment is ideal for building strong individual players as well as strong teams.
